More Numbers

Three more supporting churches have come on board since our last update. In addition, we are anxiously waiting to hear from another church this month.

We are currently at 78.89% support. Our support level was higher, but our overseas medical insurance increased by $42, causing us to lose one percent.

Our target date of leaving for Uruguay in November is sneaking up on us. We need an additional 10 supporting churches or individuals to join our ministry. With God all things are possible!

Baby Bells

Ps 127:3 says, "Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward." No, no. . . not us! Sorry to have gotten your hopes up. Jo Anna's sister, Carolyn Rojas, is due in December. Daniel Rojas pastors the church in Paysandu. This is the city where Jo Anna was raised. We can hardly wait for Felicia to see her Uruguayan family for the first time.

Friends

In our last prayer letter, we mentioned the need for additional meetings for this summer and fall. During the past two months we have worked hard to make friends by showing ourselves friendly. This has resulted in a two-fold blessing. First, some of these friends have invited us to come for meetings. Second, we have immensely enjoyed the times of fellowship and training we received at the different pastors' conferences and fellowships.

Send-off

My cousin Jon Clapp had his send-off service at Calvary Baptist Church in Jefferson, Wisconsin, in June. They are serving as missionaries in Palau. We have enjoyed sharing deputation experiences with them over the past two years. They have been an incredible encouragement to us. We are happy and sad to see them go. Hopefully, our furloughs will coincide at some point in the future.

Preparation

Part of preparing to leave for Uruguay is gathering items that will help pass on our American heritage to Felicia. We want her to realize the sacrifices that were made to ensure our freedom so that we can go and reach others for Christ across the seas.

Uruguay Corner

Uruguay is presently in its cold winter months. As we have corresponded with various folks in Uruguay, we have been hearing how cold it has been. It even got below freezing one day. This cold has been aggravated by a shortage of heating gas. In the absence of central heating, portable butane or electrical heaters are the method of choice for keeping yourself warm. Please pray that we will find a warm house in Montevideo during language training.
