97, 98, 99, 100!

I couldn't take it any longer. Yesterday, I got on the phone and called the pastor of a church we had recently visited. He had told us the church would be voting on supporting us this past Sunday. So when Monday afternoon rolled around and I had not heard anything, I picked up the phone, and . . . received the GREAT news! The church had voted to take us on for support, which in turn put us over the top for our support needs.

Thank you for your fervent prayers over the past few months. Your encouragement and ongoing support means so much to us.

Let's Go

Throughout pre-field ministry, our home church has been a constant source of blessing to our family. We will greatly miss our church family when we leave for the field. On Saturday, April 12 at 2 p.m., Berean Baptist Church in Brooklyn Park, Minnesota, will be having a commissioning service for us. We would love to see you there, if you can make it to this special event.

Planes, Trains, and Automobiles

So, maybe we won't be taking a train anytime soon, but we are still finishing the last few engagements in March and April. Earlier in the year, we received invitations from three different churches to be part of their missions conferences. We have just completed the first and will be going into the next two this coming Thursday. Please pray for us as we seek to finish strong. Our desire is to continue to see more workers join us on the field, and to see more Christians challenged to live a lifestyle that glorifies God. In addition, with the weak dollar and inflation in Uruguay, we could use any extra support that may come in as a result of these last few meetings.

While completing these final appointments, we are also in the middle of planning an international move.

This morning, after receiving final clearance from our mission director, I emailed an expediter to schedule our container pick-up. I also called a travel agent to assist us with the purchase of our plane tickets. While juggling these two items, I received our 2007 taxes back from our accountant for signing. Praise the Lord for a nice refund that will help toward all these last-minute expenses.

Some of you may be wondering how our outfit and passage fund is doing. Thanks to the love offerings of God's people and being able to stay in our sending church's ministry home, this amount has been raised.

Another Language

We are planning to leave for Uruguay the last week in April. Please pray for us as we touch down in our promised land. We will be seeking a place to live in the capital. We have some leads in this area, but will not be able to do much of this until our actual arrival. While seeking a place to rent, we will also be looking for a language tutor. Please pray that the Lord will direct us to a well-qualified individual who will be able to teach at a reasonable price. In addition to looking for a private tutor, we will also be deciding on one of three language institutes. These institutes are geared more for business people, but will still be beneficial for me during the early stages of language training.

Winter, Fall, Winter?

Yes, that's right. We are going to skip spring and summer this year. Uruguay is in the Southern Hemisphere. It sure is good our home for the past few years has been Minnesnowta!
